- 12 Biographical Dictionary

A New and General Biographical Dictionary; containing An Historical and critical Account of the Lives and Writings of the Most Eminent Persons in every Nation; particularly the British and Irish. 12 volumes complete. Published by London; T Osborne J Whiston and B White W Strahan T Payne et al -67, 1761

Twelve volumes, 8vo [page size 204 x 128mm], contemporary full tan sprinkled calf, the spines with blind ruled raised bands, two lettering pieces, one brown the other green, engraved armorial bookplate of George de Ligne Gregory on all front pastedowns. [Gregory, 1740-1822, owned considerable property in Nottingham, Lenton, and Radford, and holdings in various canal and railway companies; his portrait was painted John Russell, probably to celebrate Gregory's appointment as High Sheriff of Nottinghamshire in 1793.] Extremities very slightly rubbed with some slight fraying of spine ends; spines slightly darkened; some mostly very light staining of some of the text of the first three volumes; remains a rather good example of mid-eighteenth century binding.
